About Marisa Claudine

I have a passion to inspire women to cultivate an intimate relationship with their Father God. I firmly believe that once we understand that we can have intimacy with Him and we pursue it daily, our lives become transformed not only in our faith but that we find who we truly are in the presence of God's embrace.

I am deeply committed to supporting those navigating mental health challenges, PTSD, and substance abuse.

My mission is to share God's love through the examples of what He has done in my life, inspire other women to journey towards an intimate relationship with God, and provide a community where women can find hope in God.

Coffee with Jesus: Percolating Intimacy with God...One cup at a time

Author Marisa Claudine has plenty of life history to prove that life is hard. Coffee with Jesus is how she got through those difficult seasons as God stretched, challenged, and grew her relationship with him. By the power of our testimonies, we overcome—and that is what Marisa shares with you.

Page after page, you'll witness how Marisa's vulnerability becomes a source of hope and encouragement for those battling paralyzing fear, shame, grief, depression, judgment, anger, rejection and addiction.
